

Location of proposed stained glass artwork:

The art will hang in the three center windows on the north side of the library, with two smaller stained glass pieces (each 3.5' x 3') on the outer two windows, and one larger piece (3.5' x 6') in the center.

Basis of artwork:

The commissioned piece is inspired by Bill Hutson's "Homestead", the painting based on his childhood home in San Marcos, where he was born and raised, and uses the primary color palette prevalent in much of his work. Bill Hutson is a well-known international artist whose work was shown in a multi-facility exhibit in San Marcos in 2022. The design and installation of the piece is by the two local artists with River City Glasswork. It is a public art project of the San Marcos Arts Commission.
