Background Information:

The area known as Spring Lake located in the City of San Marcos is one the longest continually inhabited sites in North America and was home to many different groups, bands, and tribes of Indigenous Peoples for at least 13,000 years.

Indigenous Peoples' Day was first proposed in 1977 by a delegation of Native Nations to the United Nations sponsored International Conference on Discrimination Against Indigenous Populations in the Americas; and

The City of San Marcos recognizes and values the vast contributions made to our community through Indigenous Peoples' knowledge, science, philosophy, arts and culture and through these contributions the City of San Marcos has developed and thrived. The City of San Marcos celebrates and honors the cultural and foundational contributions of Indigenous People to our history, past, present and future.
